Goodland students compete in Littleton

Eleven students from Wayne Luckert's ATA Taekwondo attended the Battle for the Mountaintop in Littleton, Colorado on Saturday, Aug. 27.

The tournament had close to 800 competitors of all ages, belt levels and abilities. The eleven students from Goodland represented the local school well with most of the students placing in their events. Four of the eleven were Tiny Tigers receiving first place in the form competition. Tiny Tigers range from age 4 to 6 years old. Aiden Miller, Barrett Schlosser and Trenton Smith competed at the Orange Belt level and Jarek Crow competed as a Camo Belt. Crow also received first place for his weapons form.

Five Karate for Kids' students also participated in the tournament. The boys competed in the 9-11 age division. Luke Hamilton placed first in forms as an Orange Belt. Trent Coon, a Blue Belt, placed third in sparring. Jackson Daise competed as a Black Belt Recommended and placed third in weapons. Manteen Crow also a Black Belt Recommended placed second in weapons and third in sparring. Bryson West, who just received his First Degree Black Belt last month, received an Awesome Competitor medal.

Connie Johnson and Tammy Neal both competed in the women's division in different age groups. Neal, a Third Degree Black Belt medaled, and Johnson, a Blue Belt, placed second in sparring.

Mavericks play golf at Adams State

The Northwest Tech Maverick men's golf team found themselves in tough competition last week as they traveled to Adams State in Alamosa, Colo., for the Grizzly Invitational.

The Mavericks finished 11th in the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference tournament won by Colorado School of Mines. Colorado Mesa University of Grand Junction was second, Western New Mexico was third, Colorado State of Pueblo fourth, Colorado University of Colorado Springs fifth, Nebraska of Kearney sixth, Fort Lewis College of Durango, Colo., seventh, Colorado Christian eighth, Regis University of Denver ninth and Adams State 10th. For the Mavericks Joel Weis was the top golfer finishing 55th with rounds of 81, 85 and 81 for a 247 total and 34 strokes behind the winner.

Tyler Jones finished 57th with round of 88, 100 and 92 for a 280 total. Tyler Boeugher was 58th with rounds of 99, 96, and 90 for a 295 total. J.P. McCool was 59th with rounds of 93, 108 and 112 for a 313 total. Dylan Smith was 60th with rounds of 120, 110 and 115 for a 345 total.

The Mavericks were in McPherson today with both the men's and women's golf teams competing.
