Director Huck Boyd National Institute for Rural Development at Kansas State University Let's go to Haiti. A big smile comes across the face of a little native girl here, as she opens a package containing a new, handmade dress for her. This dress is one of many which were handmade by a woman from rural Kansas. Thanks to Sue Chavev who shared this story with us. It's today's Kansas Profile.

Aurelia Pacey is a retired farm wife who now lives in Manhattan. This is the story of her remarkable family and her continuing service to others.

Aurelia and her husband are originally from north central Kansas.

Franklin continued on with the For 58 years the Paceys would custom baling business into his seventies. He was the regional expert for the Allis-Chalmers small round baler repairs. Vermeer Equipment even used Franklin as a consultant for their large round balers.

Franklin and Aurelia raised beef area farmers. They would mow, cattle, wheat, alfalfa and prairie rake, bale, and shed or stack the hay, but perhaps their greatest crop was their own children. In this rural

'Our parents taught us the value of hard work, education and honesty," said Sue Chavey. The six children all married and moved to cities including Olathe, Denver, Omaha, and Manhattan.

The two sons are engineers. Mike lives in Olathe and is a structural engineer for Butler Industries. David lives in Manhattan and is a professor of Mechanical and Nuclear Engineering at K-State.

Among the daughters, Sue works as a medical technologist for the K-State College of Veterinary Medicine. Marie lives in Manhattan and teaches math at Susan B. Anthony of whom are honor graduates of Denver and has her own child care business. Polly is a substitute teacher in Omaha.

Franklin and Aurelia Pacey enjoyed traveling and were able to visit all 50 states. In 2003, Franklin was diagnosed with cancer and they moved to Manhattan where three of the six children live. Franklin died in June of 2004, less than one week shy of his 77th birthday.

Aurelia, now 84 years old, maintains an active lifestyle. She sews and belongs to a church group, two book clubs, and a ThirdAge group. Aurelia now has 16 grandchildren and nine great-grand children.

"She bakes the best angel food cakes in the world, and she always makes them from scratch," said daughter Sue. "She has taught sev-making a perfect angel food cake."

In the fall of 2010, Aurelia began making dresses for little girls in Haiti and Africa using fabric given to her from various sources. Aurelia uses her 60-year-old Kenmore sewing machine which has a lifetime warranty with Sears - who would have guessed the warranty would last this long! Aurelia has now made 370 dresses and continues to make more.

It's time to leave Haiti, where a young girl is thrilled with the handmade dress she received from a woman from rural Kansas. We commend Aurelia Pacey for making a difference with her service. How remarkable to realize that, even at the age of 84, we can still serve our fellow man.

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
