Arts center showcases kids

By Pat Schiefen

The Goodland Star-News The Carnegie Arts Center was bursting at the seams as parents came to see the first and second graders of West Elementary School sing and move under the direction of Linda Lucas on Sunday afternoon. The youngsters helped open the annual elementary school art exhibit.

On display were snowmen done several ways, a story about an elephant, zebras, cardinals, sunflowers and many other projects. After singing many of the kids were especially eager to show their families their artwork.

The first grade sang "Uno Dos Tres," Months of the Year," "Mail myself to You," "Who is on the Dollar Bill?" and "Skinnamarink." Members of the first grade class were L.J. Purvis, Evanie Conde, Manuel Gonzales, Hayden Arnold, Kiara Bohannan, Braden Bergsma, Kristina Dees, Ellie Goodwin, Jaxi Mitchek, Witton Peter, Haley Biermann, Kerrek Lockhart, Avery Aguilar, Grace Anderson, Vanessa Ayers, Hannah Coumerilh, Cole Linton, Briella Rubio, Taryn Shaw, Jaron Nothdurft, Aspen Knapp, Beau Warden, Natalie Salmans, Brayden Smith and Lily Porter.

Their teachers are Janice Pearson, Katie Fulwider, Kara Smith, Denise White, and Sandy Timm.

The second grade sang "Painted Rooster," "Best Friend Forever," "A Little Bit More of Love," "I Like my Feet" and "Yankee

The members of the second grade are Makenna Hovis, Strid Loudon, Reagan Frandy, Jason Colby, Gentry Deeds, Damion and Jerek Crow.

The West Elementary second graders and first graders provided the entertainment for the opening of the elementary art exhibit at the Carnegie Arts Center. The second graders sang five songs for the audience. The exhibit lasts until the end of February.

Beginning March 1, with few exceptions, all federal benefits, including Social Security and Supplemental Security Income benefits, are to be paid electronically. That's according to a rule from the U.S. Department of the Treasury.

For years, Social Security has stressed the convenience, security and safety of getting benefit payments electronically, offering peace of mind that your payment will arrive on time, even in the event of natural disasters or being away from home when the check is in the mail.

Electronic payments (direct deposit or Direct Express) are not only the best way to receive federal benefit payments - for most people, starting in March, they are the only ## from our viewpoint...

Clinton leaves post in a strong position

Testifying before Congress last week, outgoing Secretary of State Hillary Clinton showed she's mastered the artful lie.

Asked once again what happened at the consulate in Bengazhi, Libya, the night of Sept. 11 when U.S. Ambassador Chris Stevens and three other Americans died in a terrorist attack that apparently took her State Department by surprise, she exploded into indignation.

"With all due respect, the fact is we had four dead Americans," Clinton responded, raising her voice at Sen. Ron Johnson (R-Wis.), who continued to interrupt her. "Was it because of a protest or was it because of guys out for a walk last night who decided to kill some Americans? What difference at this point does it make? It is our job to figure out what happened and do everything we can to prevent it from ever happening again, senator."

Guys out for a walk who decided to kill some Americans? Armed with the firepower to storm a U.S. consulate in a hostile environment, kill the ambassador and his guards? And how did they know where the ambassador was, anyway?

Let's get real, Madam Secretary.

Or should we say, Madam President?

For there's little doubt that Ms. Clinton is quitting the State Department now so she'll have plenty of time to get ready for the 2016 presidential race. Flying around the world for another couple of years might be fun, but presidential campaigns are not built in a day. And she must be presumed to be the front runner, well ahead of plodding old Joe Biden.

The secretary managed to be indignant enough, almost, to make herself look like the injured party in this sparring match. On the defensive herself for months, she tried to put her questioner on the defensive.

But she merely continued the administration line, which has been all along an effort to minimize the attack and make it look like less than it was.

The White House co-ordinated the story that night and the next day that the deaths resulted from a protest against an anti-Muslim video made by an American and posted on the Internet. Such a protest tied up the street of Cairo that same day.

But it was apparent from news reports that night, no matter the source, that the incident had in fact resulted from a planned attack by trained terrorists who had in mind the death of an ambassador they and their friends blamed for the deaths of many of their ilk. And on the anniversary of the Sept. 11 attacks in the U.S.

Still, Ambassador Susan Rice was sticking to the administration line a week later on the Sunday interview shows. Her loyalty may have cost her a shot at replacing Ms. Clinton at State.

And then here was Hillary, telling us it was guys out for a walk, still clinging to the line.

We all know better. Sen. John McCain (R-Ariz.) may have said it best: "It's been a coverup from the beginning."

"It was theatrics," Sen.Johnson said in a later interview. "She didn't want to answer questions, so she makes a big show of it."

Ms. Clinton carries a lot of baggage, but unless the Republicans come up with the kind of candidate they haven't had to more than 20 years, she'll be measuring the White House for drapes. Come to think of it, she used to live there; she may already have the window sizes. - Steve Haynes

Debt always keeps building

May all who can hear my voice, written or otherwise, consider the following scenario.

Two neighbors, building their lives side by side, bond and become friends as neighbors will. Times get hard and one neighbor falls harder than the other, giving one neighbor the opportunity to lend a hand, and a large sum of money to the failing neighbor. Lets call them

Jack and Tom. Jack has great honor so he puts his property on the loan. And spends the money on the things of importance to him.

As time goes by, Jack's circumstances get tougher and he can no longer make the payments to the loan, but Jack has pride so he makes penance payments that nearly pay the interest on the missed payments. Jack also is unable to make upkeep payments, and Tom steps in and makes them in Jack's stead. So now the principle balance is increasing, with only penance payments to pay what is now interest on interest.

But also, as time goes on, Jack's family continue to live there. At first Jack takes real good care of the property, dutifully attending to his handyman chores where finances allow, and borrowing from Tom for costly repairs. But time and finances take their toll, and life events decrease the value of the property.

Jack has done his best and Tom knows he has, so when Jack passes away Tom is willing to extend the some loan to Jack Jr. so that they won't lose the family home. The note is also passed down to Tom Jr. el valor de la propiedad. and so on into generations.

Seemingly an obscured scenario... but is it?

Generations ago, a loan was made. That loan that was never paid back. The principal of the loan keeps going up as additional loans are added on. Payments continue to be made, of course they never meet the minimum amount due so they are penance payments put toward interest and not principal. The loan is being passed down from generation to lack of ability to take care of business.

At what point does Tom say to himself, "Maybe it is time for me to become physically responsible for this property as well as financially". At what point should have Jack's family taken a look at what they could do differently so that the debt could be paid.

If we dealt with our local banks in this manner, we would already be homeless. But, we have dealt in this manner with a much more important property.

As always... Your views and opinions are welcome. To contact me directly, e-mail me at littlefish_67@ymail.com.

Pay-go rule important in the House

Rules! They are important in every aspect of our lives. Rules can give those in powerful political positions the opportunity to run things as they see them. An excellent example of rules being used to one's advantage is Pay-go.

Pay-go is a provision that allows no floor amendment to increase the amount of expenditures, in an appropriations bill, unless a like amount is reduced from some other portion of the bill. An example would be that if you wanted to make an amendment to increase base state aid for education, you would have to propose deleting a matching dollar figure from another area – example: delete that matching amount from health care. One group would love you, the other would be very upset.

A positive of that plan is that it keeps one political party from proposing amendments that they know will not be accepted. In the past, this would be done so a politician could say they proposed a great plan but their opponent voted against it.

The House of Representatives has had pay-go in effect the last two years. It gives the appropriations committee a lot of power, as you only need 12 members to pass an appropriations bill. There are 23 appropriations members. The Republicans are chosen by the Speaker of the House. The number of Republicans is based on the percentage of Republicans in the House. The minority chair chooses the members from his party. This year, there are 93 House Republicans and 32 Democrats. The makeup of the committee is 17 Republicans and six Democrats.

This year, the Senate also passed Pay-go. The Senate has a make-up of 32 Republicans and eight Democrats. Susan Wagle, the first lady to be President of the Senate, made a rules change that allows her to be solely in charge of appointments to Senate committees. The appropriations committee, in the Senate, is known as the Ways and Means committee. There are only nine members. If you have followed my logic, this makes the Senate President the second most powerful politician in the State as Senator Wagle will only need five votes to control spending.

Personally, I had a very exciting week. My Education budget committee passed out two bills to the House. Both bills dealt with the transfer of lands and involved the University of Kansas and Emporia State University. Next week we begin budget hearings. I have seventeen budgets in committee that will total 62 percent of the state general fund budget.

I was also given the honor of presiding over the full House on Thursday. It was very exciting to sit in the Speaker's chair and lead the House for a day.

The judicial selection bill passed out of the Senate and will be coming to the House. I am guessing there will not be a vote for several weeks in the House.

Cowboys wrestle small team from Atwood

By Kevin Bottrell

kbottrell@nwkansas.com

The Goodland High School wrestling team dueled Rawlins County High School on Thursday at the Max Jones Fieldhouse.

Rawlins County was open at many weight classes, so only five matches took place.

At 120, Tristan Cooper lost to Macrae Migchelbrink in a 14-2 major decision. Cooper fell behind in the first quarter, but got a two-point reverse to tie things up in the second. Migchelbrink took the lead again with four more points in the second and scored eight

At 138, Drew House lost to Shelton McCain in an 11-4 decision. McCain got two points for a takedown in the first period. House got a two-point reverse to tie things up in the second, but McCain pulled away with an escape and a reverse. House was down 7-2 going into the third. McCain scored four points, then House began to rally, getting a two-point reverse to make it 9-4. McCain scored another two points in the final seconds,

Cowgirls lose to No. 8 Holcomb

By Pat Schiefen

pjschiefen@nwkansas.com The Goodland High School varsity girls basketball team fell 74-32 to the Holcomb Lady Longhorns on Friday night at the Max Jones Fieldhouse.

Holcomb – the No. 8-ranked team in 4A – made the first three point basket of the game and kept increasing their lead. The last quarter was played with the clock continuously running.

The next game for the Cowgirls is at 5:30 p.m. (Mountain Time) tonight against the Scott City Lady Beavers at Scott City.

In the first quarter, Megan Siruta put in the first bucket for the Cowgirls, but the Lady Longhorns still led by one, 3-2. Holcomb added a bucket and when Hope Cochran was fouled she made one of two free throws. Also playing in the game were Kate-Lynn King added the last Faith Biermann, Milan Brannick bucket for the Cowgirls in the and Ellie House.

first quarter. At the end of the first quarter Holcomb led, 20-5.

In the second quarter King added a free throw and another bucket. Cochran hit the first threepoint shot of the night for the Cowgirls. Then, Paige Phillips added a free throw and Cochran made another three pointer. Siruta hit a three pointer for the last Cowgirls score of the first half. At that point Holcomb led, 47-18.

In the third quarter the Cowgirls made six points including baskets by Phillips and Mara Kling. Holcomb led, 70-24.

Briana White hit a three-point shot at the beginning of the fourth quarter. The Cowgirls made one more bucket and Cochran made a free throw shot to end the game. Turn overs and missed shots contributed to the Cowgirls loss.

bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
