County ponders necessity of inmates at landfill

By CYNTHIA HAYNES

Norton County may quit using prison inmates at the landfill to help with recycling.

County commissioners discussed the possibility of just using the three-man solid waste department crew to do what work is needed at the recycling center and at the landfill, which can only take items from building construction and demolition.

Solid Waste Department Supervisor Curt Archibald signed a contract with the Kansas Department of Corrections for use of prisoners on Dec. 17 but did not give a copy to the county clerk until he was requested to do so.

Commissioner John Miller said that he was worried that the prison inmates were not being supervised well enough and that he felt that until the county has a regular landfill it doesn't need all the extra help.

"All three of our people are certified in household hazardous wastes and solid waste management," he said. "The can all do the jobs that are required at that landfill."

"We've got people watching the prisoners do the work and our guys aren't doing anything. We don't need those guys (prisoners) out there five days a week." Commissioner Dean Kruse agreed.

"Our needs have changed since we don't have an incinerator any more," he said.

Mr. Miller suggested that the county look at discontinuing the use of prison labor for three months.

"Let's see what our employees can do on their own," he said.

In other business, the commissioners: • Talked to Weed Department Superintendent Reggie Beckman about spraying the right-of-way on state highways. The state pays the county to do this but the commissioners asked Mr. Beckman to see how much time it takes so that they can determine if the price needs to be raised.

The state paid Norton County about $4,000 last year — about $1,000 for chemicals and the rest for the application.

• Signed the weed department's annual report, which is due by Feb. 15.

• Discussed the pothole problem in the south parking lot of the courthouse with Road and Bridge Supervisor Tom Brannan. Mr. Brannan brought the plans from 1982, when the lot was paved. He said that when the snow melts he can put a cold-mix asphalt patch on the worst spots.

• Received culvert bids from four suppliers. The best bid from Welborn of (Continued on Page 5)

Rural fire department does all it 'can' to get needed funds

Since last summer the Norton Rural Fire Department has been collecting cans with the hope of raising enough money to help with the purchase of some new equipment.

Fireman Jeff Otter said they've collected $400 so far, but it would take around 87 years to get enough money for the new equipment at the rate they were going.

The fire department is looking at applying for grants and possibly having a few fundraising projects in the spring.

"We want to keep the community involved," he said. "We've had some really good response with the can drive. It's nice that the people of the community help when they can."

Mr. Otter came up with the fund-raising idea during the county fair when he wondered what the beer garden was going to do with all of their cans and then thought about collecting cans to pay for new equipment.

"With the state the economy's in now, it's kind of hard to go running to the commissioners and ask them for $250,000 for new equipment," he said.

The fire department is working hard raising money because it needs to replace a grass fire fighting rig, which was brand new in 1976. He said the price isn't bad for one, because they can use a standard pick-up truck with a slider unit on it.

The department also needs to update the pumper truck, because as it is, it just won't pump out enough water to take care of the (Continued on Page 5)

Banks and offices to close for national holiday Monday

Originally set aside in 1796 to commemorate George Washington's birthday on Feb. 22, the day became a bona fide national holiday.

In 1865, the year following President's Lincoln's assassination, both houses of Congress gathered on his birthday, Feb. 12, for a memorial address. While Abraham Lincoln's birthday did not become a federal holiday like George Washington's, it did become a legal holiday in several states.

In 1968, legislation was enacted that affected several federal holidays. One of these was Washington's birthday, which had been shifted to the third Monday in February each year, whether or not it fell on the 22nd. This act, which took effect in 1971, was designed to simplify the yearly holiday calendar. And even though, the holiday is still officially known as Washington's Birthday, it is now referred to simply as "Presidents' Day".

Following is a list of local banks and government offices that will be closed in observance of Presidents' Day; U.S. Post Office; all offices in the Norton County Courthouse; First State Bank; First Security Bank; Almena State Bank (Almena and Norton); Commercial Federal Bank; The Bank; and United Northwest Credit Union.

Norton City offices will be open Monday, as well as the Norton Public Library, and all Norton schools will hold classes as usual.

School board discontinues girls' tennis

By VERONICA MONIER

Future projects for the Norton School District were decided at Monday's meeting and because repairing the tennis courts wasn't on the list of approved projects, the district reluctantly decided to discontinue the sport.

Superintendent Greg Mann said the board had several options concerning the tennis courts. He said they could either temporarily repair the courts for an estimated $13,000 to $15,000; repair them permanently where they are now for about $120,000; build new courts somewhere else as a possible project with the help of the city; or discontinue girls tennis and replace it with another girls sport.

He said if the courts weren't repaired or replaced, the district would have to drop the sport because of the safety issues concerning the courts as they are now.

"If we don't repair the courts this year, then tennis is done," he said.

Board member Elaine Lofgreen said they needed to face the hard facts; the district needs to keep up building repairs. She said they are going to be doing a lot of major roof repairs for the next several years and that she didn't think the school district could afford to fix the tennis courts again, because they've been repaired numerous times already.

Mr. Mann said if they did decide to drop girls tennis, then they would replace it with girls sport. He recommended golf, which is also played in the fall.

Board member Darin Schuckman said with the upcoming projects the district has to do, that might be the best decision. He said they couldn't afford to repair the tennis courts or build new ones and that there was a golf course that should be readily available.

The board reluctantly decided to discontinue girls tennis and start girls golf for the 2004 fall season.

After much discussion, the projects the board decided to undertake are the replacement of the roof over the Eisenhower Elementary library, the replacement of three photocopiers, the construction of a wheel chair accessible bathroom/changing room at Eisenhower (Continued on Page 5)

Commissioners choose culvert bid

Salina was cheaper than last year, Mr. Brannan said.

- Told acting Ambulance Director Andy Nielsen to join the Kansas Emergency Medical Technician Association. The cost is $100 for the county and $15 per technician. This will allow the technicians to get free continuing education at workshops, which are held all over the state.

- Heard that the ambulance will be standing by at all the car races at Elmwood Park this season and probably for four motorcycle races. The ambulance will also be on standby for the regional wrestling tournament on Friday and Saturday, Feb. 20-21, at the Norton High School.

- Were given a letter from the Kansas Department of Health and Environment saying that the design for new monitoring wells at the county's proposed landfill would have to be changed. Solid Waste Supervisor Curt Archibald said that this letter is the only information he has received recently from the state on the landfill.

- Learned that a Bobcat used at the landfill went off its one-year warranty in November even though it has only been used for 114 hours. Commissioner Kruse suggested talking to Hoxie Implement, which sold the county the Bobcat, to see if they would help with the problem.

- Discussed a letter received from Loren T. Thiele, a former county resident, on the cost of the county suit on large animal confinement operations. Commissioner Miller suggested that County Clerk Robert Wyatt send Mr. Thiele a letter suggesting he make an open-records request of the information.

- Held a 15-minute closed session with Sheriff Troy Thomson to discuss a contract he is negotiating with the City of Norton for dispatch services.

The sheriff said that he was told that more prisoners will end up in the county jails because there are no beds left in the prisons. He said that 80 percent of the people in the system will end up back in jail.

- Were reminded by Commissioner Miller that there are 17 to 18 sex offenders who attend therapy sessions at the courthouse once or twice a month on Tuesday nights. These people are required to sign in with the sheriff's office, he said. These people come from all over Northwest Kansas, he said.

- Agreed to spend $100 to send four people to an economic development workshop.

Elementary, the replacement of the windows in the boys locker room at the Wilmeth Kirk Memorial Gymnasium, the installation of a 5 foot by 85 foot sidewalk at the Eisenhower Elementary playground, and the replacement of the gym floor at the Wilmeth Kirk Memorial Gymnasium. The six projects will cost approximately $127,250 and will be paid for out of the capital outlay fund.

In other business, the board:

- Scheduled a special meeting at 5:30 p.m. on Feb. 19 to work on general long-term goals which will help provide the board with direction in their planning for the coming years. A Kansas Association of School Boards facilitator has been hired to guide the board through this process.

- Heard Norton Community High School will be hosting a regional wrestling tournament on Feb. 20-21. Mr. Mann said they will be dismissing school at the junior/senior high at 1 p.m. on Feb. 20. The tournament will start at 2 p.m. Buses will run at their normal times.

- Approved the academic calendar for the 2004-05 school year. Next year's calendar calls for 179 teaching days, four in-service days and three workdays for room and grade preparation. Teachers will report on Aug. 16 and the first day of school for students will be Aug. 20. The last day of school for students will be May 24 with the last day for seniors on May 18 and commencement scheduled for May 22. The first semester will end at the winter break.

- Learned from Mr. Mann that the city plans to begin charging the school district in 2005 for the water used to irrigate Travis Field and the practice football fields. He said this would have cost the district more than $6,000 if the city would have been charging the district this past year. Mr. Mann said the district will probably end up watering less, the fields will be hater, and Travis Field won't look as nice as it does now.

- Accepted the financial audit of the 2002-03 school year. The audit was presented by John Mapes of Mapes and Miller Accounting. He said the audit showed no exceptions or statutory violations. The board directed Mr. Mapes to file the required and necessary reports with the proper state agencies.

- Heard from Mr. Mann that the gas bill for December was $15,672, which is a 61 percent increase over the December 2002 bill and a 74 percent increase over the December 2001 bill. He said the board should prepare for a January bill of around $20,000.

- Gave permission to the superintendent to republish the district's food service budget and set the hearing for revised budget for Monday, March 8 at 7:30 p.m. Republishing the budget gives the district the authority to utilize more of its anticipated revenue. Food, supplies and some personnel costs have risen faster than had been anticipated and it was feared that the current budget authority was not going to be sufficient.

- Learned that the Norton Correctional Facility donated 1,700 four foot fluorescent light tubes, which should keep the district from having to buy new tubes for the next two years, in the process saving approximately $1,800.

- Extended the building principal's contracts through the 2005-06 school year with salary and benefits to be determined at a later date. In-service points were approved as presented.

Mr. Otter said that rather than waiting for the first Saturday of the

If the department gets enough money raised for the new equipment, the people of Norton County will not only have better protection against fires, but their home-owner's insurance will also go down, he said.
