WEEKLY SERMONETTE

Americans are Blessed With Freedom of and from Religion

By The Rev. Lew Van Der Wege,
First United Methodist Church, Norton

As Memorial Day approaches we remember and celebrate the great and ultimate sacrifice that many men and women have made to secure and preserve our freedom. In the midst of these current troubling times of war we are even more aware of how precious American freedom is in contrast to the dictatorship and theocratic rule many people suffer.

As one looks at Afghanistan and the radical religious rule that brought forth suffering for its own people and several terrorist attacks in the world including Sept. 11, 2001, one realizes that having freedom from religion is just as important as having freedom of religion.

We are free to choose a religion and to let that religion guide us in our work, our school, our play, and our personal lives. But, we are also protected from radical religion regardless of its form that would strive to conquer and rule us (in the name of God).

I encourage you to consider these blessings and to protect them and utilize them. Seek out God in your life and support your religious heritage. And, give thanks that the responsibility for religious indoctrination is centered in our mosques, churches, and synagogues and not in our government. God has truly blessed America.

How do dreams become reality? How did such qualities as freedom, individualism, justice and opportunity advance from conception to completion? What was the catalyst here?

The answer to these questions is also the reason we celebrate Memorial Day each year. These dreams did not become reality without the sacrifice of thousands of lives in battle for well over two hundred years. We live in freedom today, thanks to the heroes who gave up their fledgling futures for us. They gave us a personal definition of patriotism.

Though these courageous men and women were afforded little goodness in battle...there was one item many insisted upon keeping close to their heart. That was the Bible, the comfort of God's Holy Word that saved souls even when life could not be preserved. Perhaps the poet, Rudyard Kipling, echoed the sentiments of those dying heroes in these stirring words from the conclusion of his patriotic poem, "The Choice",

*"Then praise the Lord most High
Whose strength hath saved us whole,
Who bade us choose that the Flesh should die
And not the living Soul!"*

May you have a most meaningful Memorial Day!

The total retail value of the books is over $1000. The LIBRI Foundation offers grants to rural libraries throughout the country in their Books for Children program, making it possible for small libraries to obtain books we could not otherwise afford to buy. The dedication of the new books will happen on the opening day of Summer Story Hour; June 7 at 4 p.m.. All community members are invited to join us at 4:45 to see the books and enjoy refreshments with the story hour lunch. Please consider this your invitation and feel free to check out one of the new books to read to a child in your life.
