

AROUND THE ANDBE HOME

By DARLENE McEWEN
Resident Resource Coordinator

The past few weeks, the Andbe Home has participated in some fun food adventures. One of them was a party called, "Come On In For A Cool One" and the other was making "Blue Jay Beans" for the Booster Club.

Families, friends and residents celebrated the new ice cream machine and the new slushy machine that have been purchased by the Andbe Home. "Miss Daisy," the new red vehicle, bussed residents from Whispering Pines to the party and the Blue Van bussed tenants from the Manor. DSNWK patrons joined in the celebration also. Several family members attended, as did Board members Ruth Burd and Gene Wiltfong.

Kent Blake, Administrator, and Kelli Tuxhorn, Director of Nursing, donned aprons and hats to look the part of soda jerks as they made sundaes, malts, and floats. There was no limit to the amount of ice cream that afternoon as seconds and even thirds were served. Following the "Cool Treats," introductions were made and a musical game with balloons, gladiolus, and empty bags was played. All enjoyed visiting with friends. "It's a pretty catchy title for a party," said Paul Ballinger! Whispering Pines tenants sent a lovely thank you note with cute remembrances of the afternoon spent here. Residents have made the "Blue Jay Beans" for the Booster Club for several years now and were glad to do it again. Velma Knapp and Darlene McEwen, RRC, shopped for the ingredients at the local grocery stores. They chased around the grocery aisles just to see what all was on the shelves as they filled a basket with green beans, kidney beans, butter beans, pork and beans, bacon and items for the sweet and sour sauce. The famous beans were made during the Resident Council meeting on Sept. 7, which was the first home football game. The whole building was filled with the sweet aroma of the beans. Residents in the West Hall made a separate recipe of beans so everyone could taste them. As residents answered roll call, they were given a taste of the beans. Residents agreed that the beans were just as tasty as always.
