

HUSKIES CELEBRATE HOMECOMING

The 2007 Northern Valley Homecoming was held last Friday, when the school's royalty was crowned. Pictured are, front row, left to right: Kindergarten Attendants Hunter Hogan, Camdyn Unterseher, Jasmine Covington, and Kinsey McClain; second row: Freshmen Attendants Kayla Field and Matt Dole, Princess Amanda Turman, King Brian Sproul, Queen Amanda Hopkins, and Junior Class Attendant Brittney Braun; back row: Sophomore Attendants Justin Jeffries and Karen Wenzl, Prince Richie Kersch, and Junior Class Attendant Tanner Jessup.

— Photo courtesy of Laryl Rous

Senior Amanda Hopkins joined the other Northern Valley High School cheerleaders, with help from the Northern Valley Junior High cheerleaders, to get the crowd worked up and the pep rally started.

— Telegram photo by Veronica Monier

Brittney Braun and Tanner Jessup played the part of a rough and tough Logan football player and a skin-showing Logan cheerleader as a part of the junior class skit. Brittney and Tanner were eventually run off by the mean, green Northern Valley football players.

— Telegram photo by Veronica Monier

Joni Hilburn won Green and White day with her dual painted face and Husky paw print.

— Telegram photo by Veronica Monier

Zach Vincent questioned Sean Braun, who was playing the part of a clueless Logan Trojan, during the freshmen skit. The freshmen skit grabbed first place in the skit contest Friday.

— Telegram photo by Veronica Monier

The Northern Valley dance team showed off their moves to end the pep rally.

— Telegram photo by Veronica Monier

Northern Valley's first Homecoming Queen, Kathy Gebhard Hogan, was escorted by her husband, Leland Hogan. Attending them were kindergartners Hunter Hogan, son of Justin and Debbie Hogan; Camdyn Unterseher, son of Bill and Mindy Unterseher; Jasmine Covington, daughter of Julie Hilburn; and Kinsey McClain, daughter of Matt and Amy McClain.

— Photo courtesy of Laryl Rous

Skylar Harris, playing the part of a Logan Trojan during the freshmen skit, sobbed in frustration as he continued to get answers wrong.

— Telegram photo by Veronica Monier

Coach Chuck Zimmerman did his part to excite the crowd, talking about the Husky volleyball team and what they could do.

— Telegram photo by Veronica Monier