

Firing a salute to honor fallen soldiers was the honor guard from the Norton American Legion.

You got the beat! Amanda Lowther, drummer in the Northern Valley High School Band, helped set the pace as the band marched in Monday's Veterans Day Parade.

The American Legion Color Guard lead a group of veterans as they marched down State Street during Monday's Veterans Day Parade.

Paul Ballinger, a U.S. Navy veteran, proudly rode on the Andbe Home float. Holding the sign was Sharon Batson.

These veterans, many still able to fit their uniforms, kept in step as they marched in the Veterans Day Parade

Committed to having a good time, the Crimson Cuties of Norton are the local chapter of the Red Hat Society. They all piled into the back of a truck for the parade.
