Women's health club's topic

Fifteen members of the Mid-Century Greater Federation of Women's Clubs met March 27 at the home of Lynn Nelson with Norma Rufford as co-hostess.

The theme for the evening was "Trunk for a Healthy Lifestyle".

Doris Winteroth presented the lesson, "Women's Health Today - Heart, Stroke."

She told the group that while they often think of heart attacks and strokes to be mostly for men and "older people", the truth is that heart disease is the No. 1 killer of women. No matter their race or ethnic background, one of every three women dies of heart disease.

By contrast, she said, one in every 30 deaths in women is from breast cancer. While, women still need to be concerned about breast cancer, she said, heart disease casts a bigger shadow over your life and it is important to take action now.

A stroke is caused when blood flow to the brain is obstructed by a clot or break in a blood vessel. Strokes are the third leading cause of death and more women suffer strokes than men.

If you think someone is having a stroke, she said, there are three easy steps to take. Remember STR.

S — Ask the individual to smile (check to see if both sides of the face look the same)

T — Ask the individual to talk, or speak a simple sentence

R — Ask the individual to raise both arms

If you think you or someone else is having a heart attack or a stroke, call 911 immediately. Ask for an ambulance. Do not try to get to the hospital on your own.

Beverly Kindler conducted the business meeting.

Roll call was answered with "Something I do to lift my heart and spirit". Leta Donovan read a card from Nicole Seaton, thanking the club for the Christmas gift to the Cheyenne River Habitat for Humanity.

Thank you letters were also read from Phyllis Lewis and Lori Green, members of the Helios Club, Hill City, and from Rosetta McFarland and Vicki Robison.

Miss Kindler said the Sixth District Fall Convention will be held Saturday, Sept. 27, in Hill City.

Mid-Century has been asked to help with the coffee hour and to provide one of the give-away baskets. Miss Kindler is the district president and will preside at this meeting.

Mid-Century is scheduled to carry Meals on Wheels for two weeks, March 31 through April 13.

The club's annual pie sale was held Thursday at the Norton Senior Center.

The 117th GFWC Annual International Convention will be in Chicago, Saturday - Tuesday, June 28-July 1. Rose Ditto, Wamego, is the international president.

National bridge tourney draws 16 teams

It was another grand night of fun and games as 16 teams gathered for the 19th annual Norton National Bridge Tournament with contestants from Decatur and Phillips counties joining the locals and returning snow birds, and winter Texans sporting their sunbats.

Due to weather and flu, there were a record number of substitutes filling in for the opening night.

As the playing got underway, the light heartedness seemed to prevail throughout the evening, along with the usual sighs and gnashing of teeth.

As in tournaments past, slam prizes were in effect, which could have been the kiss of death as over bidding seemed not uncommon.

Dorothy Avery and Ruth Durham, always playing the conservative game, started the evening off by winning round one.

Defending champions Claudia Bridges and Ivy Rolland, the masters of defensive playing, hoping to repeat, took the honors on round two. Proving that good cards and good players are hard to beat, Dee Bushnell and Ann Schultz turned in the high score of the evening on round three with a score of 1,740 points and Bonnie and Clyde, AKA Bonnie and Sam Manning turned in the high round score on round four and the high total of the evening of 4,440 points Slams were made by Jerry Moritz, Myron Veh, and Sam and Bonnie Manning. As usual, almost every team had one or more slam hands that weren't bid.

Substitutes for the evening were: Merrice Brooks and Beverly Klein for Marie McKisson and Annette Miller; Carl Neff and Glenn Wiltfong for Dewaine Stapp and Jack Graham; and Charolette Neff for Alberta Slaby.

Top five teams in order were: 1. Sam and Bonnie Manning; 2. Jerry Moritz and Myron Veh; 3. Mary Jane Wahlmeier and Janice Persinger; 4. Marie McKinney and Annette Miller; 5. Thelma Bushnell and Paul Schultz.

Other teams not previously mentioned were: Dick Hemphill and Weldon Brooks; Dorothy Brown and Sue Anne Stutheit; Willy and Marcia Wiltfong; Mary Lou Archibald and Alberta Slaby; Dewaine Stapp and Jack Graham; Dan Bushnell and Ann Schultz; Joyce Sumner and Norman Walter, Jim and Jean Williams; Joe and Jake Durham.

Round two of three rounds was to start on Thursday, April 17.

It was released by the White House Press secretary that due to the high price of jet fuel and the load capacity of Air Force One, those dignitaries who had originally entered the tournament sent their regrets and were unable to attend.
