nate Kyle Mindrup for student of the month, November, 2008. Kyle leads in the classroom by being ever-present, always completing assignments, answering when called upon, and displaying excellent social skills and respect for others. He also is deserving of this recognition because of his leadership role in National Honor Society and throughout the school. Kyle, voted NCHS President, made all the arrangements for our service project. Also, as service to the school, he is assisting Kim Kasson as she works a long-term substitute job for Kelly Scott. He checks with her, daily, to make necessary copies, and she claims this is a huge help. Please consider Kyle for this honor. Mrs. Mirla Coleman

I nominate Kyle Mindrup. Coming in as a long-term substitute, I was very overwhelmed. I needed entire workbooks copied for my students. Kyle made my life much easier by making hundreds of copies. He did the work accurately and in a timely manner. He presents himself
