Happy trails at the Andbe Home

By Darlene McEwen
 That old phrase, "Back in the saddle again," takes on such a special meaning to me as I write this first column since I got "back in the saddle again," here at the Andbe Home. I retired just a year ago and spent a wonderful school year being a para at the Eisenhower School.
 I was impressed with the "school workings" and enjoyed being involved as school staff with the students. In March of this year, I was elected to the Board of the Andbe Home and saw a different side of the "workings of a nursing home." I questioned what would happen to the "nursing home workings" as I learned that Rose Ann Miller, SSD, was retiring and Crystol Richards, activity director, was moving. Crystol's husband was teaching in another school system.
 It tugged at my heartstrings as I wondered if I could be of service in my old position of Social Service Designee. In June, I applied and was hired back. I resigned my position on the board and Rob Maddy replaced me.
 It was "back in the saddle again" as I began to do social services. Now, I fully intended for an activity director to be hired before Crystol left but that didn't happen.
 Guess what, I was "back in the saddle again" in activities! New Activity Directors have been hired and I will introduce them to you as they begin to work.

 But for this first "Around The Andbe Home" article, I want to share how wonderful it has been to bring the school and the Andbe Home together this month!
 Thursday was workday for the teachers in the Norton School. Catheryn Leiker, resident of the Andbe Home, has a granddaughter, Mrs. Kristen Fahrenbruch, who teaches fourth grade at Eisenhower Elementary School.
 I thought it would be fun for Catheryn to see Kristen's school room so arrangements were made with Kristen and Mr. Roy, principal, for the visit.
 Leta Donovan has long been a supporter of the Norton School system and a good friend of both Catheryn and Kristen so she went also. Christen Fowler, eighth grader, was the youth volunteer that went along to help. We were welcomed at Eisenhower by Dana Madden, secretary, and Mr. Roy. We assured Mr. Roy we would be just a little bit rowdy in the hall but would not race down the ramp by the lunchroom. He laughed with us as we pushed on to Mrs. Fahrenbruch's room. Along the way we stopped to visit with many of the teachers and viewed a lot of different rooms that were ready for students.

 What a treat for us as Mrs. Fahrenbruch shared her various programs including Racecar Math and Rachel's Challenge. We saw the pretty sacks holding the birthday packages for her students and read the instructions she included in the folder for her students.
 We made stops in the kindergarten classrooms as Leta had a great granddaughter starting that grade in Lawrence. We all laughed as Catheryn told how she waited on the bench outside the Kindergarten room when Mrs. Fahrenbruch was a crying student there! We all had to agree that Mrs. Fahrenbruch had come a long way since then.
 On the way home, Christen Fowler said, "I don't think I have seen Mrs. Slipke since I was in her class. I am glad I got to come!" It was close to lunchtime when we returned to the Andbe Home where the same staffers who saw to it that Catheryn and Leta were ready to go on the adventure were anxious to hear about the tour and yet get Catheryn and Leta to lunch on time. As I put the bus away and walked back to my office, my heart was racing as I pondered the events of the morning.
 I was so thankful for a school staff that was so gracious to welcome residents in wheelchairs, a rehired Resident Resource Coordinator and a teenager into their world.

 I was grateful to a Nursing Home which provided the transportation and an administrator that willingly said, "Go." I was so proud of a staff who along with everything else needing to be done saw to it that these two ladies were ready to go and willing to share once they returned. I was excited that a teenager would take time to go with us and really mean it when she said, "I'm so glad I got to come."
 I'm glad to be "back in the saddle" again. Until next time, HAPPY TRAILS.
