

DEATH NOTICE

Glenda M. Sprague

Oct. 10, 2009

Norton resident, Glenda M. Sprague, died on Oct. 10 at the Andbe Home in Norton at the age of 68.

Survivors include her husband, Olin, of the home in Norton; her son, Steve, and daughters, Wanda Graham and Cheryl Farr, all of Norton, and son, Don, of Lennox, S.D.; brothers, Larry Eagleburger of Ottawa and Dennis Eagleburger of Norton, sisters, Sherland Bietz and Rhonda Daniels, both of Norton; 8 grandchildren and 6 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. in the Norton Christian Church with Rev. Jeff Nielsen officiating.

Burial will follow in the Mt. Hope Cemetery, Alma.

Visitation will be Tuesday from 9 a.m. - 5 p.m. at the Olliff-Boeve Memorial Chapel in Phillipsburg.

Memorial contributions may be given to Hospice Services.

OBITUARIES

Frank Miller

Nov. 12, 1946 - Sept. 9, 2009

Frank Miller, son of Marcell and Oliva Sander Miller, was born Nov. 12, 1946 in Hays, and died at his home in Atwood on Sept. 9 at the age of 62.

Frank grew up on a farm near Norton and attended school there. In 1965, he went into construction work with King Construction, Inc. where he built bridges.

On Nov. 30, 1968, Frank and Paulette Horinek were united in marriage at Sacred Heart Church in Atwood. After their marriage, they moved to Salina, where their first child, Sue Ann, was born.

In 1971, they moved to Atwood. This home was blessed with five more children: Frank J., Sally Ann, Norman Lee, Rex Alan and Sara Ann.

In 1981, they moved to the farm 10 miles east of Atwood where his wife, Paulette, was raised.

Throughout his life, Frank worked for Philpott & Co, Murfin Oil Co. and Decatur County, performing various jobs.

He returned to bridge work and worked for Wildcat and Bridges, Inc. Seven years ago, he returned to King Construction, Inc., where he was employed until he was no longer able to work.

Frank was a member of Sacred Heart Church in Atwood. He was a very hard worker and a very neat and precise person who took pride in his work.

He enjoyed living on the farm, working outdoors, building bridges and operating a crane. He loved being with his family and friends.

Mass of Christian Burial was held Sept. 12 at Sacred Heart Church in Atwood with Fr. Stephen Folorunso as celebrant. Lector was Ramona McCarty and Cole Struder and Jamison Kanak were Mass servers. Communion ministers were Pam Luedke, Jan Braun and Connie Terry. Frank's children presented the gifts.

Music liturgy was by the Sacred Heart Choir with congregational singing.

Organist was Pati Heble and cantor was Pat Prochazka.

Burial services were held at Mount Calvary Cemetery in Atwood.

Frank was preceded in death by his parents; brother, Tom Miller; sister-in-law, Delbertta Miller; father-in-law, Steve Horinek; sister-in-law, Theresa Kantor; and brother-in-law, Wayne McCarty.

Those remaining to celebrate his life include his wife, Paulette of Atwood; daughter, Sue and husband Duane Mader, Hays; son, Frank J. Miller and wife Natalie of Colby; daughters, Sally and Sara Miller of Atwood; sons, Norman and Rex Miller of Atwood; six grandchildren, brothers, Richard Miller and wife Tammy, and Allan Miller and wife Connie, all of Norton; mother-in-law, Frances Horinek of Atwood; sisters-in-law, Ramona and husband Dick McCarty, Oakley, and Jan and husband, Bob Braun, and Mari-beth McCarty, all of Hays; aunts and uncles; nieces and nephews; numerous cousins; other relatives; and friends.

Memorials have been established in Frank's name for Hospice, Sacred Heart Church and Rawlins County Health Center.

CARD OF THANKS

Thank you very much for all the memorials, donations, food, phone calls, flowers, plants and visits that we received during the time of the loss of my husband and our dad. Thank you for all the thoughts and prayers.

Sincerely, Paulette, Sue, Frank J., Sally, Norman, Rex and Sara and families

My sincere thanks to my family for taking time off from their jobs to help take care of their dad. A very special thanks to Jane Waterman and Hospice. Thanks to Fr. Dan Sheetz for being there with us. Also, a special thanks to his friends and family who stopped by to see him and called him. That really meant a lot to Frank. He really enjoyed that. God's blessings be with you all!

Paulette Miller

Family brings comfort to childhood illness

Child of the 40's Liza Deines

"Well, Edith, it looks like we have a full-blown case of German measles here," says Dr. Osborne, as he tucks his thermometer back into its case. "It'll last about a week or ten days. Keep her in bed, warm, dim lights, no reading..."

A week? No reading? I don't hear another word he says after that. What will I do if I can't read my library books? Besides, how can I have German measles? I'm not German. And I'll miss school and get behind and what if I don't pass second grade? Tears start to fall as, snuffling and whining, I tell all this to the doctor. He is adamant. I can't go back to school until my fever is down and I'm not contagious. Contagious? What is that? It sounds like contrary, which Daddy says I am sometimes, but that doesn't keep me home from school. Maybe Mama will explain it to me if this mean old doctor ever goes away. Oh, this is just awful. I don't feel good, all hot and itchy. My throat hurts something fierce and I have chigger bites all over. And that doctor says I can't even scratch. Misery.

The doctor is going now so I start to get out of bed. Mama tucks me firmly back in, tells me to nap until she brings lunch. So here I am, stuck in bed, no books at all, the shades pulled down tight. Around the edges I can see it is a bright sunny day outdoors, which is where I want to be and right now, too. Well I'm not going to take a nap and that's all there is to it.

When I wake up something smells delicious, and Mama is pattering around the room. She has brought in a cardboard carton cut so it has legs. I sit up in bed and she sets it on my lap just like a little table. There's a napkin on it and two little flowers in the toothpick holder. "I'm hungry," I say, surprised. "That's good," Mama says. "You will get better sooner when you eat." I'm sure glad to hear that, especially when she sets my lunch down. It's in her favorite blue soup bowl and it smells good but I can't figure out what it is.

"It's milk toast," Mama explains as I dig into it. Mmmmm. A thick slice of homemade bread toasted and buttered with sugar and cinnamon and hot milk poured on it. She tells me stories about when she was a little girl and lived in a dugout and then a soddie just like Laura and Mary in "On the Banks of Plum Creek." We go through my flash card drill so I won't forget my sums but then we play checkers. Maybe these measles aren't going to be quite as bad as I thought.

Daddy brings me a bottle of Grapette pop when he comes home from the grocery store and gives me a hug. My brother Roger comes in and looks at me.

"You're all spotty," he says "and you look like a salamander." But he laughs when he says it and tells me after supper he'll bring in his radio and we can listen to "The Shadow" and "Green Hornet." Roger is the shoeshine boy down at Slick's Barber Shop so he has his very own radio because he makes lots of money. I wonder if they ever let girls shine shoes? If I had some money I would drink Grapette all the time.

Supper is potato soup and egg custard to slide down my sore throat. Afterward I snuggle down and listen to radio programs with Roger until I get really drowsy. Maybe I'll be well tomorrow. My mind is too busy to sleep so I think about all the things I need to know when I grow up like what contagious is and if I will be able to speak German when I get over German measles. Why else would they call it that? I wonder if my science project bean plants have sprouted. And whether girls can shine shoes and what it is that only "The Shadow" knows? And . . .

STUDENT NEWS

Carson Braun, the son of Ed and Judy Braun, graduated from WyoTech in Laramie, Wyo., Sept. 18. He graduated with an associates degree in applied service management. He also received diplomas in Automotive technology with an emphasis in chassis fabrication, and a diploma in trim and upholstery. Carson was a leader in his class as a member of the National Technical Honor Society and he was an Eagle Tech.

Carson Braun

Trees Available for planting

Brighten up the fall by becoming a member of the Arbor Day Foundation during October and receive 10 free trees, all of which are autumn classics.

The free trees are part of the nonprofit Arbor Day Foundation's Trees for America campaign, a program dedicated to environmental stewardship through the planting of trees.

Those who join the Arbor Day Foundation in October will receive two sugar maples, two red maples, a scarlet oak, sweet-gum, northern red oak, silver maple, white flowering dogwood, and Washington hawthorn.

The trees will be shipped post-paid at the right time for planting, between Nov. 1 and Dec. 10. The six to 12 inch trees are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free of charge. Planting instructions will be enclosed with each shipment of trees.

To receive 10 free autumn classics, send a $10 membership contribution to Autumn Classic Trees, Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Ave., Nebraska City, Neb., 68410, by Oct. 30 or join online at www.arborday.org.

Norcatour News

Dewaine Stapp, cousin Cliff Bailey and sons Gordon and Roy, Alturas, Calif. were house guests Sept. 18 and 19. They came for a family gathering of the Sherman Bailey family. Sherman had four children: Ray, Earl, Emma (Stapp) and Elvin. Earl Bailey had four in attendance: Sam Young, Tessie Roger, Cliff Bailey and Dod Bailey. Emma Bailey (Stapp) had Dewaine Stapp and Alice (Stapp) Shirley in attendance. Elvin had two guests in attendance: Elwood and Norine Bailey and Geraldine (Bailey) Packer. Much talking, singing, and family history was exchanged.

Beth Sebaugh, Dorothy Ward and Bee Nelson had dinner on Sept. 27 at the Cardinal Bar and Grill. Delicious food, good conversation and plans were made for coming events.

The Red Hat Ladies from Lenora, Norcatour, Clayton, Norton and Selden met on Sept. 26 in Norton. It was held at the home of Doug and Doris Johnston. Doug makes beautiful wooden inlay plaques. The method he uses is called INTARSIA. He demonstrated the procedures he uses to produce these unique pieces of art plus impressive tools and a huge supply of specialty woods. Everyone was astounded by the quality and beauty of his art plus the incredible amount of patience required to produce each individual piece. Doug and Doris graciously treated everyone to a tour of their home to see displays of Doug's work. After the presentation, a lunch was enjoyed at the Town and Country restaurant where more of Doug's art is displayed. A quick trip to the Norton Museum finished an enjoyable day.

Lloyd and Sharon Stanton of Salina had lunch with his mother, Arlene Hix and his sister Marjorie Prince on Sept. 22. They were on their way to Colorado.

Hershel and Jody Betts met his cousin, Dorothy (Frewen) Clarson, for lunch in Nampa, Idaho on Sept. 2. Hershel and Jody were route Labor Day weekend with family members. Dorothy has made her home in Nampa since January 2007 to be near her daughter and family who reside in Boise.

Dean and Ann Husted

Couple celebrates 50th

Please celebrate Dean and Ann Husted's 50th wedding anniversary on Oct. 18 from 2 - 4 p.m. at Crossroads Church at 313 W Lincoln in Norton. Dean and Ann were married on Oct. 18, 1959 at the Christian Church in Hoxie. They have 4 children and their spouses: Cindy and Calvin Wright, Alma; Bob and Sandy Husted, Norton; Randy and Brenda Husted, Alma; and Chuck and Kari Husted, Kearney, Neb. They have 15 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren. The couple requests no gifts.

Readers

Prairie Wind Eyecare at 114 N Kansas in Norton will be closed on Oct. 19 thru Oct. 30. This is to allow the staff to take a much needed vacation. Please pick up your glasses prior to Oct. 16. Prairie Wind Eyecare will re-open on Nov. 2.

BIRTH

Will and Lorle Bolt would like to announce the birth of their son Tanner Kent Bolt. He was born on Sept. 11 at 5:45 p.m. at the Mercy

Tanner Bolt

Regional Health Center in Manhattan, weighing 7 pounds, 1 ounce and measured 19 3/4 inches. He joins his big brother Tyler Bolt at home. Tanner's grandparents are Linda and the late Adam Brumbaugh of Ada and Ben and Joan Bolt of Norton.

FYI

John Stutterheim would enjoy hearing from his friends while he is in the hospital. You can send greetings to him at: Room 2217, Hays Medical Center, 2220 Canterbury Dr., Hays, Kan., 67601.

Dr. R.A. Peterson attended his 50th high school reunion at Harlan, Iowa on Oct. 3, with 68 of the original 78 class members present.

For help with your advertising needs please give Dana a call 877-3361

NORTON TECHNOLOGY CENTER
OCTOBER CALENDAR OF EVENTS
Power Point Oct. 15 & Oct. 22, 6-8 p.m.
Quick Books. Oct. 21 & 28, 6-8 p.m.
Microsoft Word Oct. 29, 6-8 p.m.
PRE REGISTRATION IS REQUIRED-SEATING LIMITED
Don't forget to register for our mini laptop to be given away on October 30th at 3:00 p.m. During Our Open House
See Our Website at www.nortontechnologycenter.com

Register to Reserve Your Spot at 785-877-2885 or 785-874-4844 or email kimmcs@ruraltel.net - 103 S. State, Norton, Kansas

Oct. 9 - Oct. 14

Showing at the
NORTON THEATRE
Inglorious Basterds
(R) 2 Hours, 43 Minutes (Presented in Digital Surround Sound)
Friday and Saturday: 8:00 p.m.
Sunday: 5:00 p.m.
Mon., Tues., Wed.: 7:00 p.m.

I Love You, Beth Cooper
1 Hour, 50 Minutes (PG-13) (Presented in Digital Surround Sound)

Let's Go to the Movie

Since both movies are non-premieres, all passes accepted

Both movies are the general admission price of $6.00 and $5.00 $3.00 per person for either movie this Sunday

•Cloudy with a Chance of Meatballs
Check the Theatre website www.nortontheatre.com

COMING SOON

This ad is brought to you by The Norton Telegram

The Norton Theatre will be undergoing minor roof repairs beginning Thursday, October 8 and may last through this coming week (weather permitting). During this repair, the Norton Theatre WILL BE OPEN during normal business hours. However, theatre patrons may need to purchase tickets and enter the theatre through the east emergency exit doors. Signs will be posted regarding where to go. We apologize for this minor inconvenience and thank you for your patronage in spite of the roofing repairs.