

Diana Enfield busy woman

By DANA PAXTON
dpaxton@nwkansas.com

Lifelong resident Diana Enfield is a very busy woman.

Diana was born in Indianapolis, Indiana but at the age of four Diana, and her family moved to Norton. Her father, Darel Boston, was a Christian Church minister and her mother JoAnn, a stay at home mom. She has one brother Dean, that lives in Texas.

In 1981 Diana graduated from Norton Community High School with intentions of becoming an elementary school music teacher. She studied at Manhattan College for a year.

In 1982 she married Larry Joe Enfield. To this union came two sons; Jody who currently works for the Norton Police Department and is married to Jessica and they blessed the family with three boys, Trevan, Caden and Ethan. Diana's other son is Andy who works at The Norton Glass Company.

She started working at the Enfield Funeral Home in March of 1990 after attending Kansas City Kansas College to become a funeral director. Her current job duties include being the funeral director, office manager, music director and she is the secretary treasurer for the company. She is in charge of the paperwork, billing, obituaries as well as sometimes playing and signing at the funerals.

"I love the medical stuff but couldn't be a nurse, so in order to make some extra fun cash on the side, I started working at the Norton County Hospital in the health information department in 2001 and worked there until 2006. I did this while at the same time I still was working at the funeral home." Enfield said. She still types up medical dictation for the hospital in her evening hours.

Like she doesn't have enough to do already, she also sells Sign Home Styles, a home based business offering home decor and organization items. She has sold these products since 2006.

When asked what her favorite job was she said, "Watching my grandchildren, that's my favorite job!" She watches them two to three days a week or whenever needed. "That is why I like working at the funeral home, it is flexible here and allows me to watch the grandchildren." Diana said.

When asked if she was the typical preacher's daughter she smiled and said, "I was the exception to the rule."

Diana enjoys travel, camping, playing the organ and piano at church for the choir as well as playing bunko with the girls but most of all she said, "I like spending time with my family."

- Diana Enfield -

Whether you are bringing home the bacon or frying it in the pan We salute all working women

Thank you for allowing us to meet all your Title Insurance and Abstracting needs

Security Abstract Company
214 E. Washington, Norton, KS
785-877-2141

Samantha Fulton, Jolene Weiser, Olivia Krehbiel

Let Amy Menagh at Norton Auto Supply help you with your auto parts needs!

102 Norton Second, Norton, Kansas
Phone: 785-877-3333

The City of Norton Salutes All Working Women

Thank You for All of Your Hard Work

Front row, from left, Kim Gallentine, Darla Ellis, Christina Land, Patty Rowh

301 E. Washington, Norton - P.O. Box 160
PHONE 785-877-5000

Thanking all the Women Making Norton County Work Places More and More Special Every Day!

Valley Hope Association

Alcohol, Drug and Related Treatment Services
P.O. Box 510, Norton, Kansas - Phone 785-877-5111
www.valleyhope.org