Dashiell Brown, son of Kurt Brown and Valerie Kuchera of Quinter won the State Championship tractor pull for 5-year-olds at the Kansas State Fair. There were 55 participating. Dashiell's grandparents are Galen and Eleanor Augustine, Lenora and Doyle and Kay Brown. Saturday evening Sept. 10 dinner guests of Bob and Neoma Tacha were: Roger and Peggy Tacha, Oakley; Dusty Tacha, Winfield; Royal and Gayle Tacha, Hoxie; Garrett Tacha, Colby; Micheal and Ashley Brown, Brynna and Ayden, Norton. Neoma prepared the meal which was similar to the one that was prepared for their wedding which was Sept. 14, 1946 with the exception neighbors did not have to share their sugar ration cards for the wedding cake and ice cream was not home made. A fun evening was had reminiscing the events of the past 65 years. Bob Tacha celebrated his 90th birthday on Tuesday, Sept. 13.

Kevin and Colleen Wagoner, Sharon Springs, visited their parents Stan and Ramona Shaw and Alice Wagoner over the weekend. On Sunday, Kevin and Colleen participated in a golf tournament at Hoxie and visited with Wilferd Wagoner at the Sheridan County Long Term Care.

Kay Brown, Rachel Carter, Glenda Johnson and Louise Cressler attended a Friendship Coffee at the Oberlin United Methodist Church Saturday morning Sept. 10. A lovely table was set with all kinds of goodies, also coffee and tea. Nanette Zanders, Oberlin, spoke of the schools and orphanage they started and sponsor in Haiti. This was a very interesting program.

Sharon Gaston, Ames, Iowa and grandson Cody Clark, Boone, Iowa came Thursday Sept. 1 to visit her parents, Wayne and Louise Cressler. On Saturday, Gwen Anderson, Council Grove; Megan Faris; Jessica Lemmons, Gabriel and Josie of Manhattan; Russell Cressler, Bison came to visit. On Sunday, all attended the Mowry-Brewster Reunion held at the Sunflower Senior Center. Mary Kinser visited and ate dinner with the group Saturday evening. All returned to their homes by Tuesday evening.

The Senior Citizens potluck supper was held Tuesday Sept. 13, with the following enjoying the meal: Rachel Carter, Alice Mizer, Agnes Wahlmeier, Carol Carter, John Ketting, Bob Tacha, Neoma Tacha, Stan Shaw, Ramona Shaw, Ann Sweistis and Louise Cressler. Three local children joined them for desserts.

A business meeting was then held with plans being made for the coming months. Bingo will be played at the October meeting. The group will start collecting non-perishable food items to be taken to the Oberlin Food Pantry in December.

A large crowd of Decatur County people attended the "Decatur Tomorrow" conversational meeting and potluck supper held Monday evening Sept. 12, at the Sunflower Senior Center. Many ideas were shared by the people from the towns of Dresden, Norcatur, Oberlin and Jennings.

Hunting for treasure

The Highway 36 Treasure Hunt was held over the weekend in Norton. Nearly 60 vendors, individuals and businesses held garage sales throughout the town. Above, Tim and Jodi Woormer search for a bargain at a sale on Highway 36 near Pamida.

LYLE NEWS

Visitors of Margaret, "Toots" Magers were Charles and Inez Keller of Oberlin and Ruth Vise and Karla Clason of Beaver City, Neb. On Sunday Don and Shanna Nitzel of Oxford, Neb. visited.

Kathy Van Meter enjoyed a trip to Omaha with a bank group of 17 where they saw a three-hour concert by the Jersey Boys. They had lunch at the "Old Market Place" and supper at the Cheesecake Factory.

Teresa Wood called that Dwight's group will not be with us at our Community Building benefit as they will be playing in Lincoln, Neb. that evening. We want you to come help entertain or just watch, eat and visit. Potluck supper will be Oct. 15 at 6 p.m., followed by a good time furnished by local talent. Several Sweet Adeline Prairie Rose Harmony singers will be there.

I feel a little like Aubrey who said, "I don't get around as well since I'm getting older" She has reached the ripe old age of 6.

Since I have some room left, this is a thank you note written by Uncle Elmer Van Gundy:

The socks you sent came just in time, my heels were sticking thru'. I thought I wouldn't buy a pair til' I saw what came from you.

I think I'll make them last a year, perhaps my hopes will fade. And if by chance you fail me then, I'll call the Ladies Aid.

Then those nice supporters, the finest in the town will either hold my stockings up, or they will pull me down.

I like the German cookies, they're hard as they can be. Just dip them in your coffee, your postum or your tea.

After all is said and done, in these times of graft and greed, A faithful friend is nice to have when you're in want and need.

Smoking on the Beaver BBQ contest planned for Sept. 24

The eighth annual Smoking on the Beaver Barbecue contest has been rescheduled for Sept. 24 at Lake Atwood in Atwood. Contest organizers are expecting 40-50 cooking teams this year.

Afternoon entertainment will be provided by the KXXX disc jockey, Joe Vyzourek. Vendors will also be selling their products during the event.

Barbecue prepared by the cooking teams will be served to the public at 6:30 p.m. Competitions for best salsa, barbecue sauces, beans, home brew and homemade wine will also be held and the competition is open to the public.

After the meal, a seven-piece variety band from Denver called "Vehicle" will play for the dance, which will include a Blues Brothers revue.

Also this year, a chain saw artist will demonstrate his work, which will be available for purchase.

Tickets for the event can be purchased for $20, which includes drinks, food, music and dance.

Along with the barbecue contest, the second annual Showing of the Beaver Antique Show will be held. The show will include antique tractors, cars, motorcycles and anything antique. Registration for the show will begin at 10 a.m. by the covered bridge on the south side of Lake Atwood.

Two raffles will be held this year. The first is a free range Red Wattle Gog from Tecker Pork of Neb. The second is a cajun fryer.

For more information about the contest or how to enter a team, visit atwoodkans.com or sunfloweraero.com, or call Gary Worthy at 785-626-3344.
