Two Husky underclassmen earn All-District honors

By Mike Stephens

mstephens@nwkansas.com
 The Northern Valley Huskies football team came up just short of post-season play this season but two of its players have been named to the 2012 All-District Team on offense and defense. Junior Ian Vincent was named first team offense at guard and first team defense at linebacker. Vincent, six feet tall and 222 pounds, created huge holes for the Huskies vaulted running game, and was a real force on defense, with 96 tackles on the season.

Sophomore Phillip Bryant was also named first team offense at running back and first team defense at defensive line in his first year of playing high school football. Bryant, five feet and five inches tall and 158 pounds, ran the ball with power and aggressiveness, finishing the season with 811 yards and seven touchdowns on 138 rushes for a 5.9 yards per carry average.

"I like offense, carrying the ball and scoring, but I also like defense because I like sacking the quarterback and hitting people hard," said Bryant.

According to Bryant, there were plenty of good memories from this past season but the play that sticks out in his mind is a mistake he made against St. John's-Beloit on a punt return where the ball hit him and was recovered by St. John's-Beloit.

The Huskies had a successful season finishing with a 7-2 record but Bryant said they can get better.

"This year we got off to a slow start in the first half and then we would get going in the second half. We need to get going in the first half," said Bryant.

In all, six Huskies were named to the All-District Team.

The following is a complete listing of the All-District Team as selected by the coaches and listed in order of vote totals:

transportation and lodging costs.

Mr. Sproul also said that the group is working with Northwest Planning and Development out of Hill City to get a grant for downtown revitalization for the Sidles Building, which is on the southwest corner of Washington and State streets across the street from the economic development and Chamber of Commerce offices.

In other development news, property in the northwest part of Norton has been donated to the Frontier Community Foundation to be used to build 12 duplexes which will result in 24 new homes. The dirt work should be started at any time. The groundbreaking ceremony will be held at 1 p.m. on Wednesday, Jan. 9.

The economic group is also working with the Norton County Appraiser to implement a geographic information system which will chart all of the area's utilities and infrastructure both above and below ground. This information will help businesses interested in locating here know what is available, what they might have to work around and what they might have to look at putting in or getting put in the way of roads, utilities, etc.

The board members also looked at the 12 businesses that would be spotlighted in 2013. Each month, a board member writes up a piece about the featured business.

missioner Richard Thompson.

Ms. Smith also asked about her salary and benefits. She is a part-time employee now and does not have any benefits.

County Clerk Robert Wyatt said that the insurance company sets 35 hours a week as a full-time employee and she is only hired for 30 hours a week.

Ms. Smith said that she has been helping the road and bridge department with its sign work and that has increased her hours.

The commissioners said that if she is working more than 30 hours a week, she'll just have to cut back on what she does for other departments because she is only budgeted for that amount.

Mr. Miller suggested that she talk to the commissioners next year before they set the 2014 budget.

Ms. Smith also told the commissioners about the Local Emergency Planning Committee she runs. The committee
