City Hall POLICE BLOTTER

The Oberlin Police Department worked these calls:

- Received a report of criminal damage to a 2000 Nissan Maxima belonging to Dr. Mark Olson, while the car was parked in the south parking lot at the high school between 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. Saturday. Chief Wade Lockhart said someone scratched the driver's-side door.
- Received a call about an accident at the U.S. 36-U.S. 83 intersection around 5:37 p.m. last Thursday. Jodi Votapka, 43, was driving a 2008 Chrysler Sebring south on U.S. 83. She stopped at the sign and proceeded south and was hit by a 2002 Buick LeSabre driven by William Rummel, 70, of Topekam driving east of U.S. 36.

Mrs. Votapka got a ticket of failing to yield. There were no injuries, but minor damage to both vehicles.

• A Dundy County activity bus got stuck on Adams Street Thursday when it high centered. Chief Lockhart said the driver was going east on Adams. When the bus crossed over East Avenue, it got stuck because of the asphalt buildup on the road and the hill.

The bus had to be jacked up and put on blocks so it could be driven off, he said. Students went to eat while the adults figured out how to free the bus and made it happen.

Correction

Carolyn Kelley Plotts' column, Outback, was accidentally replaced by a duplicate copy of Steve Haynes' column, On the Sappa, on Page 4A of the Sept. 16 edition of The Oberlin Herald. The mistake was a makeup error; Ms. Plotts' column from last week is being run this week along with her new one.
